

Dear Community and Family Members,

NM school districts have received a directive from the Governor of New Mexico ordering all schools to start their year with virtual instruction. After the Labor Day holiday, she will reevaluate and give direction accordingly. We are now adjusting our plans to accommodate the new order as we open virtually on August 10, 2020. Alamogordo Public Schools will be providing more plans in the next few days, but we are committed to honoring the virtual academy you may have chosen for your child or children.

We are grateful for our partnership with the families and community of Alamogordo. We remain committed to providing the emotional, social, and educational support that our children deserve.

Sincerely,

Jerrett Perry, Superintendent
