Meeting Objective: Discussion of the recent notification from the Department of Defense (DOD) to proceed with pursuing funding for the new construction of Holloman Middle School.

The meeting was live broadcasted to the public.

Superintendent Jerrett Perry led the discussion and thanked Col Callahan for his efforts in getting the district to this point. The district has been approved through the DOD to apply for a grant that will give us 80% DOD funding to build a new middle school at Holloman. The district has met with the NM Public School Facilities Authority (PSFA) and has provided them with the letter that Holloman provided to the district in support of the 20%.

A round table discussion was held to discuss project design, timeline, cost estimates, funding, and the process of the proposal and grant.

Chief of Capital Outlay Justin Burks has made contact with some consultants. Mr. Burks shared information about the process requirements for Holloman as well as the state side and spoke about the funding formulas.

We are not just building a school; we are creating a leadership environment for our future leaders. We must have a vision for what we truly want to build.

The meeting ended at 6:13 p.m.
